Retirement Planner

Online, Personalized Guidance

If you're worried about having enough for retirement, you're not alone.

The Standard's Retirement Planner on the Personal Savings Center website is an easy way to see if you are on track to meet your goals.

The tool gives a snapshot of how much money you'll have in retirement using a variety of sources, including Social Security. It also looks at other factors, such as how much you're contributing and what income you might want. The planner lets you make changes so you can figure out how to best reach your goals.

It also recommends where to invest and how much to save after you take an investor profile quiz. The planner provides guidance for your personal savings and suggests a pre-mixed portfolio that includes a diversified mix of stocks, bonds and cash equivalents.
