Base Contract + Residual = the Right Fit for Many Buyers

What's in the base contract? Plenty!

- Regular Occupation Definition of Disability¹
- Guaranteed Renewable Policy
- Family Care Benefit: a unique offering growing rapidly in popularity²
- Along with:
 - Total Disability (no residual)
 - Unlimited Mental and Nervous Disorder coverage³
 - Rehabilitation Benefit
 - Survivor Benefit
 - Transplant Surgery Disability Benefit
 - Waiver of Premium Benefit
 - Presumptive Disability Benefit
 - Option to suspend for military service
- Two future benefit growth riders included at no cost:⁴
 - Automatic Increase Benefit Rider
 - Benefit Increase Rider

Who's a good fit for the base contract?

5A/4A Occupations:

- Corporate executives or managers
- Attorneys, other than trial attorneys or equity partners
- CPAs, architects, IT professionals, engineers, consultants, contractors, paralegals

5P/4P Occupations:

- Pharmacists, therapists (master's or doctorate degree)
- Small-animal veterinarians
- Select non-invasive physicians

3A Occupations:

- Real estate professionals
- Ministers
- Property managers
- Social workers (MSW)
- Many others

Why add a residual rider to the base contract?

We recommend adding a residual rider to all quotes as a best practice.⁵ Residual gives policyowners the comfort of knowing they can return to work part time without losing their disability coverage.

Which residual rider fits which client?

See the next two cards for information on selecting the best option.

1 In Florida, policyowners receive an Own Occupation definition for the first 12 months.

2 The Family Care Benefit is not available in California or New York.

3 5A, 5P, 4A, 4P, 4S and 3A occupation classes may choose a 24-month benefit limitation. The 24-month benefit limitation is required for 3P, 3D, 2A, 2P, A and B occupation classes and all California policies.

4 Issued with all eligible policies for no additional premium.

5 In California, a residual rider is required.

Residual Disability Riders: Short-Term, Basic or Enhanced?

Short-Term Residual

5% added to base contract premium

Available only to Occupation Classes 2A, 2P, A, B

Pays up to six months of benefits

Insured must show a loss of income and an inability to perform one or more duties or an inability to perform all duties for more than 50% of the time during the waiting period and the benefit period¹

Recovery Benefit not included

Designed for:

People in blue- and gray-collar occupations who need an affordable way to protect against a partial earnings loss

Basic Residual

7% added to Short-Term

Available to all Occupation Classes except A and B

Up to six-month payment of at least 50% of the benefit amount (could be higher)

Insured must show a loss of income and either a loss of time or duties during the waiting period and the benefit period

Recovery Benefit included; requires insured to return to same occupation

Designed for:

Most clients other than those listed at the right
People who would find the premium savings meaningful compared to Enhanced Residual

Enhanced Residual

6% added to Basic

Available to all Occupation Classes except 2A, 2P, A, B

Up to 12-month payment of at least 50% of the benefit amount (could be higher)

Insured is residually disabled during the benefit waiting period by showing a loss of time or duties or income and could therefore satisfy the waiting period with no earnings loss

Recovery Benefit included; allows insured to return to same or different occupation

Designed for:

People who may not show an earnings loss upon losing some time or duties (e.g., business owners, equity partners, etc.)

Reason: could satisfy the waiting period despite showing no earnings loss

People in specialized work

Reason: insured is not required to return to their regular (or same) occupation to be eligible for the Recovery Benefit

A Better Basic Residual Disability Rider:

Our Basic Residual Rider is equivalent to most other carriers' best residual riders. See The Standard's IDI Product Guide for complete information.

Why do most clients need a Residual Disability Rider?

Clients gain additional income protection when you add the appropriate residual rider to our very strong base contract. With any Residual Disability Rider, insured customers can feel confident about returning to work part time and still qualify for a benefit.

¹ In California, the Short-Term Residual Disability Rider requires only an income loss to qualify for benefits.

Which Definition of Disability?

Regular Occupation (base contract)¹

- Appropriate for nearly all occupations
- Specialty language for physicians and dentists included
- Unable to perform duties of your regular occupation and not engaged for wage or profit in another occupation

Own Occupation Rider

- Designed for highly specialized occupations, such as surgeons, trial attorneys and others who may become disabled in their specialty but continue to work in another occupation
- Specialty language expanded to include trial attorneys
- Unable to perform the duties of your regular occupation and allowed to work in another occupation while still receiving Total Disability Benefit

5-16% premium added to the base contract depending on occupation class and age

Other For-Cost Riders Available: Cost of Living Benefit, Catastrophic Disability Benefit,² Student Loan Rider³

1 In Florida, policyowners receive an Own Occupation definition for the first 12 months.

2 In California, a Catastrophic Disability Benefit will be paid only if the insured individual is presumptively disabled.

3 The Student Loan Rider is not available in New York.
