

How will your clients protect their income if they must take time from work to care for a loved one?

Approximately 43.5 million Americans provide unpaid care for an adult or child. One in 10 provides care for a spouse. While most caregivers are women, 40% are men.¹

The unique Family Care Benefit² can replace income if you take time from work to care for a seriously ill or injured family member.

¹ Caregiving in the U.S. 2015, National Alliance for Caregiving and AARP Public Policy Institute

² The Family Care Benefit is not available in California, Connecticut or New York.

