

What is income protection insurance?

Individual disability insurance protects you by providing monthly benefits if a serious illness or injury prevents you from working and earning your usual income.